This piece enjoys star status, even with non-classical singers. Wow. My simple melody-with-chord-symbols lead sheet is what I use for most singers, even at performances. Your accompanist, your soloist-student... My 4th version of O Mio Babbino Caro, shown below, combines the full-sounding right hand with the faster-moving left hand. They can be a stretch for some hands, and careful, planned fingering is necessary to make it work, unless playing chords like these is second nature to you. This fancy/easy collection of the keys of Eb, F, G, and Ab (the original key) is eight pages of music. This is my preferred arrangement when accompanying young singers in a recital. It is still easier than the standard arrangement which would overwhelm young voices; Buy fanciest arrangement of O mio babbino, with flowing left hand and full right hand, $5.00 for 3 keys (Ab, G, & F). Or, you can buy all 4 arrangements - in 4 keys - plus the standard accompaniment (also in 4 keys) with the right to make unlimited copies for your students, for just $18! Buy all FIVE arrangements in 4 keys. So why should you buy one or all of these "O mio babbino" arrangements from me? I don't know about you, but I hate clogging up my computer with yet another program I didn't know I needed. (In older times, vocal teachers wanted more than just good pronunciation; they recommended personally translating each word of a foreign language song.) This aria is a good workout for phrasing and breathing. But the difficulty of the accompaniment is not my primary objection to using it with young singers. Let them have this music without fear of copyright infringement. Paypal, the payment system I use, is a secure and recognized payment system. The third accompaniment version doubles the speed of the left hand chords. E-Junkie delivers the PDF document, working as a partner with PayPal... your purchase is guaranteed. My favorite video is sung by Anna Netrebko, who puts her whole self into the aria, looking like nothing so much as the most gorgeous Barbie Doll come-to-life. Originally written in the key of Ab, I have it here in that key as well as G, F, and Eb. The song is much more accessible for young girls in the lower keys! And safer - don't let them force their voices to sing in a mature-sounding way, only $4, from PayPal. I like to go over the meaning of each word so my students know what they're saying. Now when I say "fairly easy to sing," I am of course not suggesting that it is easy to sing it like a professional opera singer - or that you would want your young singers to try to sing it that way! I mean that even a young singer can "cotton on to" the melody. For all the reasons you explain on the site itself - this is exactly what piano teachers need! (I still need to go look at the vocal music). These are most beautiful if lightly rolled like a glissando, however, I did not mark them glissando. On the long note, "Di-o," work with them to swell or crescendo, to put expression in. Go here to find the standard (difficult) piano accompaniment for O mio babbino... The lead sheet in the key of G. The standard arrangement, let's not fool ourselves - the standard arrangement is a handful, with its long harp-like broken chords and filled right hand octaves. It is also fairly easy to learn the melody, and the notes are not too difficult, except for the octave leaps, which give the song such excitement. You just need a version of Adobe Acrobat or another PDF reader, which all computers come with. O Mio Babbino Caro is an EXCITING way to encounter Italian for the first time... Puccini's "O Mio Babbino Caro" is surely one of the loveliest opera arias of all time. This pretty melody happens all inside 5 fingers! An optional descant is also provided. Buy O Mio Babbino, $4.00 Easiest Arrangement Four Keys Collection: The next version has some right hand chords. Versions for voice (the vocal round), and for piano. Read More I Gave My Love a Cherry (The Riddle Song) is a very pretty folk tune with clever lyrics. My primary objection is that it can be heavy with some pianists, and on some pianos! You don't want accompanists all tangled up in a thicket of ponderous chords and big leaps when their eyes should be on the vocalist! The key of Eb: The voice is the thing here, not the piano, so stay out of the way! If you really want to play the regular accompaniment, many books of Italian favorites and opera music include it, or go here to download it from my website. I also have several arrangements with piano accompaniments which I use, from simplest to most elaborate. Here is the easiest arrangement: This easiest arrangement of O Mio Babbino for voice and piano is available as a set in the keys of Ab, G, F, and Eb (8 pages total) for $4.00 for the entire collection. That's pretty much any music written in the last 75 years... If you DON'T have Adobe Acrobat or a similar program, then you couldn't download any of my other PDFs either. The notes and lyrics are a little bigger than the copies currently available in music stores, making reading easier! Speaking of reading the music, you can print this music on any kind of paper you want, and thus avoid the glare of shiny pages (so irritating for accompanists!). Write and make notes all over these copies, in red and other colors, without feeling you are spoiling your music for posterity. Dana Thynes: Hi, I'm Dana! (Say that like "Anna") I'm the owner of Music-for-Music-Teachers.com, and a newer site, SingTheBibleStory.com.
